DETAILED ITINERARY

The Phillips Collection

Friday, April 24

Depart your home city and travel to Washington, DC.

Upon arrival, travel to the Dupont Circle Hotel at 1500 New Hampshire Avenue NW, in the heart of Washington, DC. This charming, luxurious hotel brings a fusion of both American and European style and service to the city.

Please note: Check-in time is 4pm. (You may drop off your luggage earlier.)

OPTIONAL TOUR: The Phillips Collection

1600 21st Street, NW

The Phillips Collection is a short walk from the hotel.

At 1:45pm, guests will gather at The Phillips Collection with Parrish Director Terrie Sultan for a welcome by Dr. Dorothy Kosinski, the Vradenburg Director & CEO of The Phillips Collection, and Klaus Ottmann, Chief Curator and Deputy Director for Academic Affairs.

Following the welcome, guests will have the opportunity to explore the exhibition Riffs and Relations: African American Artists and the European Modernist Tradition, featuring work by African American artists of the 20th and 21st centuries as well as works by early 20th century European artists with whom they engaged. European Modernist art has been an important, yet complicated, influence on black artists for more than a century. The powerful push and pull of this relationship constitutes a distinct tradition for many African American artists who have mined the narratives of art history, whether to find inspiration, mount a critique, or claim their own space. Riffs and Relations examines these cross-cultural conversations and presents the divergent works that reflect complex dialogues. The exhibition explores the connections and frictions around Modernism through work by

Return to the hotel.

4:45pm: Meet in the hotel lobby and depart for a visit to the private collection of Barbara and Aaron Levine.

TOUR: Barbara and Aaron Levine Private Collection

Barbara and Aaron Levine, two of America's most committed collectors of conceptual art whose interests include Minimalism and works with a sense of humor and an intellectual impact, will open their Kalorama home and share with us important works by Marcel Duchamp, Rebecca Horn, Joseph Kosuth, Sol LeWitt, Joel Shapiro, Lorna Simpson, and Andy Warhol, among many others. (Note: guests will have the opportunity to view the Levine's recent gift of 35 works by Duchamp to the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden on Sunday's tour of the exhibition.)

Return to the hotel for a welcome dinner at The Pembroke restaurant.

National Museum of African American History and Culture

Saturday, April 25

Breakfast at the hotel

8:30am: Depart by coach bus

TOUR: The National Museum of African American History and Culture, and the Glenstone Museum

After breakfast, travel by coach to the powerful, ground-breaking National Museum of African American History and Culture, which supports an understanding of history through the lens of the African American experience. Collections document art, history, and culture through artifacts from the African Diaspora to present day.

The group will continue to the Glenstone Museum, where you may enjoy lunch independently at the Glenstone Café prior to the afternoon tour. Set within a restored 200-acre former foxhunting estate in rural Potomac, Maryland, the private museum co-founded by Emily Rales and her husband industrialist Mitchell Rales explores the relationship between art, architecture, and landscape. Housed within the nearly 60,000 square feet of exhibition space, the permanent collection comprises international works from the postwar era to the present. Glenstone was developed with the help of the architect Charles Gwathmey and the landscape architects Peter Walker and Partners, who have made the site a model for sustainable agriculture and environmental management.

Return to the hotel to freshen up for dinner.

Depart for dinner at Otello—a DC favorite serving authentic Italian cuisine.

Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden

Sunday, April 26

After breakfast at the hotel, checkout of the hotel and leave luggage.

TOUR: Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden

At the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, guests will visit the Marcel Duchamp and Pat Steir exhibitions.

In 2018, Barbara and Aaron Levine gifted 35 works by Duchamp to the Hirshhorn, as well as portraits, related photographs, and works on paper by the artist's contemporaries and those he influenced. This exhibition celebrates this extraordinary gift, offering visitors a rare opportunity to experience this seminal artist's most important works.

The Hirshhorn hosts the largest site-specific exhibition to date by the acclaimed abstract painter Pat Steir. The expansive new suite of the artist's signature Waterfall paintings span the entire perimeter of the second-floor inner-circle galleries, extending nearly 400 linear feet. Marking Steir's first solo exhibition in Washington in nearly five decades, these immersive works transform the Museum into a vibrant spectrum of color. Presented as a group, the 28 large-scale paintings create an immense color wheel that shifts hues with each painting.

LUNCH: Within walking distance of the Hirshhorn, guests will enjoy a group lunch at The Source by Wolfgang Puck, a modern Asian fine dining restaurant.

TOUR: Anthony Podesta Private Collection

Guests will visit the private collection of Anthony Podesta—a passionate and audacious collector of contemporary art who has a deep dedication to women artists across generations, and a keen eye for the beautiful and emotionally compelling. His holdings, artfully displayed in his Washington, DC home, range from important sculpture by artists such as Louise Bourgeois; to monumentally scaled photographs by Gillian Wearing, Sam Taylor-Wood, and Olafur Eliasson; to video installations by challenging, wildly innovative artists including Nathalie Djurberg.

After the tour the coach bus will take guests back to the hotel to pick up luggage and depart for home independently.

We suggest planning for a departure time after 6pm.
